

Q & A

MY STYLE

Comfort and colour are key, says jewellery designer Eugenie Niarchos

Wardrobe failsafes? My black lace dress from Dolce & Gabbana is a go-to when I don't know what to wear. You can never go wrong with black.

WFH uniform? I've been wearing a lot of cashmere these days. My sweaters from the Elder Statesman have been very useful. I pair them with tie dye T-shirts that I made myself during lockdown. For Zoom meetings I accessorise with lots of jewellery.

Style icon? There are many people who dress beautifully, but I think it's important to be yourself and develop your own sense of style.

Power dressing? I love day dresses from Altuzarra – its designs are edgy and elegant at the same time. For the evening I like Dundas for its fun party outfits in funky prints and colours.

Everyday uniform? Comfort is a priority. In winter I wear loose cashmere sweater dresses and flat combat boots from The Row. In summer I wear slip dresses from Venyx x Saloni, a Muzungu Sisters mochila bag, and sandals from Gianvito Rossi.

Finishing touches? Colourful Venyx jewellery. Right now I am wearing the Muzo emerald earrings. At night I wear the Teer or Oryx earrings.

Under the radar labels? Beau Souci is my favourite label right now. The quality is incredible, and I end up wearing my purchases all the time. In the summer I like to wear Cult Gaia crochet dresses.

Break out party look? I bought a Christopher Kane chainmail the day before lockdown. Now it's over I can make use of it this summer – especially as it's my birthday this month!

Summer holiday essentials?

Tropic of C bikinis, Caravana pareos, dresses by Venyx x Saloni.
